

Andrew I. Press, CPA-Partner

Andy began his public accounting career with a national CPA firm, upon his graduation from Bowling Green State University. He ultimately formed his own CPA firm that merged into Bick, Fredman & Co., and has become Singer, Berger, Press & Co.

Andy has a background working with entrepreneurs to assist them in maximizing their opportunities and minimizing their taxes. He serves as the administrative partner for the tax department of the firm. He is a frequent speaker before groups on subjects ranging from tax planning to understanding financial statements.

Andy and his wife Charlene have two children and four grandchildren. He is active with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Ohio Buckeye Chapter, as a board member emeritus, and member of several financial committees.
